

Originally from NJ, Dolores began singing at the age of 7 and grew up performing in school plays and in high school chorus-where she was a soloist at St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York City. She performed as an integral part of a touring children's theatre group, with television appearances, winning competitions and numerous awards. She attended the Shenandoah Conservatory of Music and the University of Hawaii and holds her degree in Vocal Performance. While in Honolulu, she had the opportunity to perform for many dignitaries from other countries and traveled many times to Japan promoting "Destination Weddings" in Hawaii-she holds the distinction of performing for more than 18,000 weddings. While in Honolulu, she owned and managed The Honolulu Madrigal Quartet and delighted audiences with 4 part a cappella singing while dressed in ornate 17th century costumes. In Honolulu, she began her teaching career with piano students between the ages of 5 and 85 and continues to share her gift of music with her students currently. She feels blessed to call Florida her home for the last 20 years and she serves as the Music Director for St. Helen Catholic Church and is also the Consolation Ministry Coordinator for the parish. Her music has traveled around the world and in 2007, she had the opportunity to share her music with Pope Benedict while in Rome. She performs throughout the area with "The Dolls" singing solos and those iconic girl group hits from the 50's and 60's as part of Golden Oldies Dance Parties and maintains an active performance career promoting her solo CD, For Sentimental Reasons, which is a treasured collection of love songs and inspirational selections.
